

What our staff have to offer

1. Who we are

We believe that our staff team is key to the success of a residential stay. Who we are and the attitude and skills of our staff and volunteers can make all the difference to a residential stay. We know the value of having a great team who have a strong Christian faith, as this underpins our attitude and approach to our guests, both young people and their teachers.

2. How we work

We are keen to build a staff and volunteer team who are experienced in working with people (especially children) in a developmental manner. We want to live life to the full as Christians and want that for our guests too. This means having a lot of fun whilst challenging and facilitating opportunities for people to grow spiritually, physically, emotionally, and mentally. Our team will be excellent role models, who are highly attentive and exceptionally good at listening to both verbal and non-verbal communication.

Our staff and volunteers would be available to support both students and staff from schools, as well as adults and children from other groups, throughout the duration of their stay at Menadue. Our team value people and are keen to care for them, meeting their needs both individually and as a whole group.

3. Our aspirations

We aspire to work with more vulnerable groups, including groups of disadvantaged people and children's charities, for example supporting young carers. We recognise that additional support staff may be required for these times, such as qualified counsellors, when this is the case we will ensure staff have the best skills for that particular group, such provision may be achieved by working in partnership with other charities.
