

Secondary Schools – Courses & Activities

Subject specific:

Our beautiful site serves as the perfect base for exploratory trips. Menadue also provides practical workspaces for delivering relevant information or processing gathered information from visits.

We can provide support and advice on locations to visit appropriate to what your group focus is on any topic area. Subject specific residentials will be self-led but we will support you and make your stay as inspiring and smooth as possible.

Our classroom space is available for your students to study or write up work in. This is separate from the lounges and flexible barn space usually used for socialising, so you and your students can wind down after a hard day's work.

You can choose from self-catering or fully catered to add to the ease of your stay.

We are located near the coast, an area soaked in culture, history and beauty, making us an ideal location for a range of subjects including:

- PE
- Art and Design
- History
- English
- Environmental Science
- Geography
- Geology
- Biology
- Media and film
- Photography

Stays with us could also touch on other subject areas like Citizenship, PSHE, or Religious Studies. Just ask if you need advice on how the area can best suit your subject needs.

If you're interested, why not come and see the site? You are welcome to come for a free day visit, to see if it will work for your group. Why not bring a family member or colleague and walk the coast path whilst you are here. We are convinced it will.

Activities:

We partner with selected external local activity providers, so you don't have to search for them, giving the best quality provision of incredible activities that Cornwall has to offer. These include:

Cornish Adventure

The Tide Climbing Centre

SurfsUp Surf School

The National Lobster Hatchery

OA Surf Club

Polzeath Marine Conservation Group

Lone Wolf Archery UK

Bridge Cycles

For more information or advice on specific activities, e-mail us directly or use the Enquiries Form.

Whatever the aims and focus of your trip, your students will benefit immeasurably from the foundation Menadue can offer. You are likely to see growth in self-esteem, confidence, self-awareness, awareness of others, initiative, perseverance, teamwork skills, responsibility, and build resilience. You will get to know them better than ever before.

Or a combination of the two!

Mix up your stay with a combination of subject focussed content and adventure. There are so many ways to learn and build resilience in community and alone. You may find building a program with a mixture of different learning styles in valuable to the range of students you bring along. Feel free to ask any questions about other groups that have done this and glean knowledge from our experience.

With our site you can build the best foundation possible for your students, and a residential week they will never forget.
